

Special Interview

with a Big Sake Lover!

Timothy Sullivan

Here is our friend who is known as a passionate and loyal Sake lover. Let's see how Sake got him and visit his website "UrbanSake.com" to learn everything about Sake!

- When did you start drinking Sake? Who introduced Sake to you?

I started drinking Sake in spring of 2005. I was introduced to Sake on a date! I went to a fantastic Sushi restaurant and had Sake together with amazing Sushi and was hooked.

- How often do you drink Sake?

I drink a little Sake almost every day. I believe it keeps me happy and healthy.

- What is so special about Sake?

Sake is amazing because of its production and taste. The production is really a miracle. Rice and water can become the "drink of the gods". The taste can be fruity, dry, sweet, tart or earthy. I am constantly amazed that these flavors come from rice and water.

- What is your favorite Sake.

I cannot pick just one. Here are some of my favorites:

- Dassai 23 Junmai Daiginjo
- Tsukasabotan Junmai
- Wakatake Junmai Daiginjo
- Hakkaisan Ginjo

- What is your favorite situation for your Sake drinking.

When: In the evening after a long day of work.
 Where: At one of my favorite New York City Izakaya
 With Whom: With my dear friends around me, laughing
 How: With a delicious Izakaya meal!

- What are your three favorite dishes that go well with your favorite Sake.

Believe it or not, I always recommend Turkey Burgers with Sake. It tastes good to me! The grilled turkey is lighter than other meats and reminds me of Yakitori, which goes very well with Sake. I love cold soba, tempura and sake together. This combination makes me think Japanese food and drink are the best in the world. Honestly, I also just like to snack on edamame when drinking sake. It's fun to eat and is a perfect combo with many Sakes.

- What is Sake for you in ONE word?
